

MISSING WOMAN WITHOUT HER CATS NOW AT BELLEVUE

Mrs. Stewart Walks Into Police Headquarters While Hunt Is On.

Weighted down with several bundles and a bag, a woman walked into the Detective Bureau at Police Headquarters at 7 A. M. today and announced to Lieut. Fogarty that she was Mrs. Ella Stewart, thirty-three, of No. 60 Columbus Avenue.

Fogarty remembered that a general alarm had been sent out for her late last night, following her disappearance after she had been found acting as hostess to fifteen cats. Some one had telephoned the West 68th Street Station that she had not been seen for several days and Policeman Bartholomew Daley was sent to investigate.

Daley said he found about fifteen cats in the two rooms occupied by Mrs. Stewart and when he asked her about the animals she said she was raising them and intended to auction them or sell them later to raise money for wounded soldiers.

Policeman John McDonald of the West 68th Street Station was sent to assist Daley. After questioning Mrs. Stewart, McDonald left the apartment to call an ambulance. When he left Mrs. Stewart asked Daley, he reported later, to excuse her and went to an adjoining room. When she did not return Daley entered the room and found she had left the apartment by way of the fire escape.

The general alarm said the bundles she had with her might contain dead cats, but examination at Headquarters showed that they did not. She asked Lieut. Fogarty to give her until 5 o'clock this afternoon to clean up her apartment and get rid of the cats. Instead he called an ambulance from Bellevue Hospital.

JUDGE LEVY TO OPEN FAIRLAND BAZAAR.

Judge Samuel B. Levy of the Children's Court will address members of the School Children's Welfare League and open the Fairland Bazaar of Floral Gardens, 14th Street and Broadway, to-night at 8:15 o'clock. The object of the league is to care for sick and crippled children and the proceeds of the bazaar will go for that purpose.

CAUGHT IN SUBWAY DOOR, MAN IS BADLY HURT

Fourth Avenue Traffic Held Up as Emergency Brake Checks Train.

The cries of Roscardo Carosilla, forty years old, a laborer of No. 247 East 31st Street, when caught in the doorway of a six-car northbound local train as it began drawing out of the subway station at 33d Street and Fourth Avenue during the rush hours today, caused the station agent to throw on what is known as the district switch, halting all traffic between 25th and 42d Streets. The switch brought the train to a stop twenty-five feet north of the station, and Carosilla was taken to Bellevue Hospital suffering from a compound fracture of the leg and lacerations of the face.

Besides halting traffic between 25th and 42d Streets for six minutes, trains south of Brooklyn Bridge were kept out. The cries of Carosilla caused many women to be partly overcome by fright. None required medical attention. Carosilla appeared to have got into the car safely but was caught when he tried to get out.

When Baby is Sick— Look at the Bottle

THE nursing bottle may look clean, but it is—Not unless it has been sterilized in the hottest water—and right here lies the danger.

Cheap bottles cannot be properly sterilized without breaking, and so they are too often improperly cleaned.

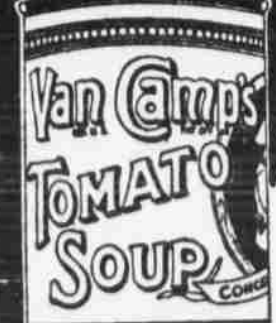

PYREX NURSING BOTTLES

can be boiled and sealed, chilled in the ice-box and re-warmed without cracking or chipping. They are always 100% safe because 100% clean. Easy to hold—do not roll, and will stand up firmly. Pyrex bottles save their cost many times because they last so long. Made in three shapes, each in three sizes; fit all standard nipples. Every genuine Pyrex Nursing Bottle is stamped with the name. Get a set of six Pyrex Nursing Bottles today. For sale wherever nursing bottles are sold.
